Big Science Business Forum 2018

26-28 February 2018, Copenhagen, Denmark

Registration, sponsorship and exhibition is now open!

Big Science Business Forum 2018 will be the first one-stop-shop for European companies and other stakeholders to learn about Europe's Big Science organisations' future investments and procurements worth billions of euros. The forum will offer your business the chance to:

- Learn about business opportunities in the coming years, within a wide range of business areas.
- Meet representatives from Europe's Big Science organisations and their key suppliers.
- Network and establish long lasting partnerships via business-to-business meetings (B2B), business-to-customer meetings (B2C) and in the open exhibition area.
- Get insight into procurement rules, IPR, technology transfer and how businesses can interplay with the Big Science market.

From superconducting magnets and cryogenic technology over safety systems and ICT to diagnostics and many more – BSBF2018 covers a broad range of business areas. For full list see under why participate

Call for expressions of interest: Affiliated Big Science Organisations at BSBF2018

19. October 2017

 Tweet

In order to strengthen the concept of Big Science as a market place, the organisers hereby call for expressions of interest to become a BSBF2018 Affiliated Big Science Organisation. This gives European and large national Big Science organisations that procure European-wide or internationally a unique opportunity to be a part of Europe's new one-stop-shop for companies and stakeholders on the Big Science market.

Programma, dag 2

Plenary session II: Big science as a market

The session will include the following:

- Introduction to the session – Views and experiences with the Big Science market
- Presentations from 2 of the primary contractors to the European Big Science organisations
- Presentations from 2 SMEs engaged with the European Big Science organisations
- ILO recommendations for best practices – Interactions between Big Science organisations and industrial suppliers

A roundtable with all previous speakers will then follow.

D1 Diagnostics, detectors and instruments

Big Science organisations have a specific need for a range of diagnostics, detectors, and instruments for the scientific exploitation of the facility. The instruments are often designed by scientific and academic laboratories and universities, but the construction of these require the input from a multitude of specialized companies. The technical areas include optical components, imaging components, spectroscopic, microwave, electric & magnetic field diagnostics, particle detectors, opto-electronic detectors & components, and fast read-out electronics, etc.

Speakers: CERN, ESA, ESO, ESRF, ESS, European XFEL, F4E

Time: Day 2: Wednesday, 28 February, 2018, 14.15-16.30

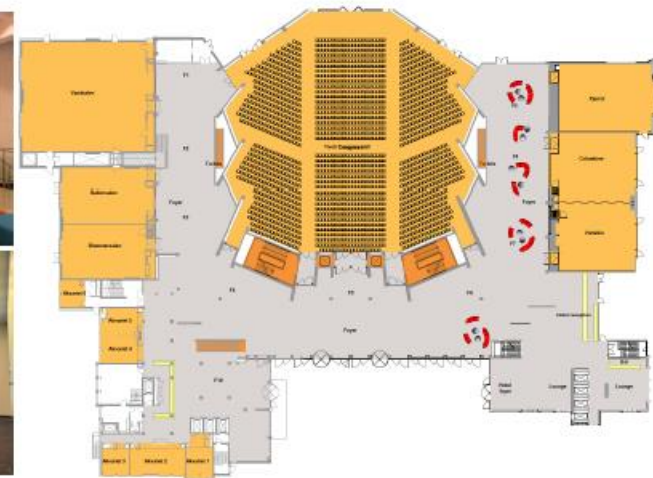

Moderator: Toon Verhoeven
